NEW YORK, June 22 .- Boss Tweed appeared in the court-house to-day in the custody of the Deputy Sheriff. He was ime in consultation with counsel, after which he proceeded to the District Attorney's office with his son and secretary. In the Supreme Court his counsel presented o Judge Davis the order of the Court of Appeals for his discharge from the penitentiary, which was signed by the Judge. The Boss soon afterwards appeared in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, before Judge Brady. The room was soon packed with people, immense numbers of others clamoring for admittance. District Attorney Phelps moved that the defendant be ar raigned to plead to the indictment found in November 1873. David Dudley Field of the counsel for Tweed, stated he was not ready to plead or to make a motion to quash, the notice of the indictment having been re-ceived only a few days since. Peckham, on behalf of the people, said it was evident the defendant intended to pursue his old tactics and stave off proceedings as long as possible. . This was disclaimed by Field.

A Legal War of Words followed which lasted nearly an hour Phelps and Peckham on behalf of the people, claiming there was no reason why this case should be made a special one of special favor be shown defendant. Field emanded to know what special favors had been shown or would be. "My client," said he, "has for seven months been illegally confined in the penitentiary and when, after committing this outrage, an outrage be held strictly accountable and after he is released by a higher power than themselves, it is wrong, it is unjust, to ask us to plead to an indictment of which we know

Counsel further said it could not be con sidered a special favor to issue warrants in a civil suit of six millions, and to fix the bail at the enormous figure of three millions, and that such a ball was unheard of. Yes, said Mr. Peckham, and the stealing of six million was an unheard of thing, until the defendant committed the theft.
